Did you know what a Watch was?

Class Duffy, who lives at No. 100 East Ninth Street, and is a teacher in the primary school on Madison Street, near Jackson, was the complainant in Essex Market Court this morning against Albert Lahn, seven years old, of No. 57 Jackson Street, and Thomas Barrett, six years old, of No. 303 Madison Street, charged with stealing her watch of her desk yesterday. It was found that the boys did not know what a watch was, and Justice Kilbreth discharged them.

Sweeping Off Taxes.

President Barker, of the Tax Commission, said to-day that the number of people swearing off their personal assessments was never so large as this year. Mr. Barker and his colleagues expect to be kept busy hearing cases all day long. They are poor every day except May 1st, the last day on which assessments may be sworn off.

Human Brains Found.

Fettersman William Gilmartin reported today that he had found a tin can containing the brains of a human being in the doorstep of 779 North Avenue. The contents of the can were found to be the brains of a human being, and the case is now pending in court.
